

Lecturer
Asian American Studies Program
University of Wisconsin-Madison
Spring 2012

The Asian American Studies Program is hiring a lecturer for Asian Am 102: Introduction to Comparative Ethnic Studies which will be offered Monday, Wednesdays, and Fridays, 11:00-11:50 in 114 Van Hise.

This course introduces students to a multicultural history of the United States, focusing on each of the major ethnic groups: European Americans, African Americans, Native Americans, Chicano/as, Latino/as and Asian Americans.

To ensure consideration: Review of applications will begin on November 14, 2011 and continue until the position is filled.

Master's degree required.

Responsible for teaching Asian Am 102: Intro to Comparative Ethnic Studies course (3 credits) Spring semester 2012.

This course is cross-listed with Chican@ Latin@ Studies (CLS 102) and Folklore.

Duties include teaching this course; preparing course materials; presenting lectures and facilitating classroom discussions; preparing, administering and grading papers and exams; and holding office hours. Class size will be approximately 60 students.

This is a 33% appointment for the Spring 2012 semester, beginning on January 13, 2012 and ending on May 27, 2012.

Minimum $34,202 ACADEMIC (9 months) Depending on Qualifications (At the lowest rate, the salary is $5,643 for the one course (33% of the full time academic rate of $34,202)).

Please submit the following by email to:

- 1) Your curriculum vita, including names and phone numbers of teaching references listed (one may be from a student)
- 2) A letter describing your teaching perspective and discussion of your specific area of expertise, and how you will use this to teach a course with a comparative ethnic perspective. Please include a discussion of your experience with material about Asian Americans.
- 3) A sample syllabi (topics with partial readings list is okay at this time)

Please apply BY EMAIL with the subject line: ASIANAM 102 LECTURER SPRING 2012 {YOUR NAME} to both:

luttal@wisc.edu and aasp@mailplus.wisc.edu

The Asian American Studies Program evaluates applicants by considering a variety of factors, including:

- Expertise in and interest in Asian American Studies is preferred.
- Experience in teaching -- either from prior teaching experience or demonstrated abilities of facilitating groups and the ability to communicate material clearly and stimulate student interest.
- Experience in evaluating student work is preferred.

If you have any questions about this position, please contact: Lynet Uttal, Director, Asian American Studies Program, (608) 263-4026.