

University of Wisconsin-Madison
SCHOOL OF LIBRARY & INFORMATION STUDIES

THE DOCTORAL MINOR IN CHILDREN'S LITERATURE

Doctoral students in departments outside the School of Library and Information Studies may complete four courses in children's and young adult literature to earn the minor. The degree will show that the minor is in Library and Information Studies, but the transcript will reflect the nature of the courses taken. This minor will meet the needs of doctoral students in education, theatre, English, and other fields whose dissertations or career plans include the analysis of materials for children or adolescents.

Select Four of the Following:

- | | |
|---------|---|
| LIS 622 | Children's Literature |
| LIS 624 | Storytelling and Oral Literature |
| LIS 631 | Young Adult Literature |
| LIS 848 | Topics in Literature for Children and Young Adults
(Topics vary; may be taken for a maximum of six credits.) |
| LIS 999 | Independent Reading and Research |